

(Senior) Manager Financial Services (all genders)

 Location: Zurich

At Exxeta, we challenge the traditional concept of business consulting and technology. Every day, more than 1000 colleagues in different locations create digital solutions, change markets and transform mindsets - driven by our passion for technology, our team spirit and the urge to create real impact. In other words: Hightech with a heartbeat.

As a (Senior) Manager Financial Services (80-100%) you will work on innovative solutions within the Financial Services consulting team. You and your consulting unit will be responsible for high-quality consulting services and will therefore actively contribute to the growth of the Swiss practice. You will cooperate with Exxeta teams in Germany and Slovakia such as the Finance team in Frankfurt or with the Innovation & Ventures team in Berlin. It will further support your development by complementing the Financial Services expertise in Switzerland.

What awaits you

- Support a variety of Financial Services clients, covering a broad range of projects across the Swiss and global markets
- Build your own team and expand customer relationships
- Get direct exposure to senior partners in the context of complex digital, regulatory and transformation projects
- Contribute directly to growing the Swiss Practice
- Grow within a flexible, supportive, and startup-like environment

What we expect from you

- 6+ years of consulting experience within the Financial Services (Banking, Wealth & Asset Management, Fintech) industry, ideally with touchpoints with risk advisory, digital transformation and / or sustainable finance topics
- Well-established network within the Swiss Financial Services industry
- Strong academic background, Master in Banking & Finance, Economics, Law, or equivalent preferred. MBA is a plus
- A positive and hands-on attitude as well as the willingness to take over responsibility
- Experience of Team Management and Sales
- Fluent in English and proficient in German. Any other European Language is a plus
- Build your own team and train our younger employees and contribute to their development
- Take responsibility for your own career and explore our exciting career opportunities as well as a broad internal and external training programs
- Willingness to travel and motivation for working in a high-paced environment

Why Exxeta

- Enjoy a professional environment within a flexible, friendly startup-like office, backed by a medium-size enterprise
- Edge your professional skills through our broad offering of in-house and external trainings and certifications
- A competitive performance-related salary and fringe benefit package (attractive pension plan, 27 days holidays)
- Stay healthy - we offer you online seminars on mental health or virtual sports programs
- Unforgettable events: Whether it's a summer party, a team, or a corporate event - we celebrate success together
- Work from home? Night owl or early bird? At Exxeta you have the freedom to define your personal work set-up

We are a home for tech enthusiasts and doers. Origin, age, preferences - it doesn't matter to us. What counts is that we burn for the common cause. Be part of the exciting journey in shaping the innovative and energetic Swiss Exxeta practice. We have impressive toolkits and clients with world class challenges, and we are now looking for talented people to join us.

We are already looking forward to getting to know you!